General Rules for the 2024 IEA Hunt Seat and Dressage Combined National Finals

RESPONSIBILITY:

In exchange for entrance to and participation in the show, this entry constitutes an agreement and affirmation that the team making it, and each of its riders, coaches, trainers, and representatives shall accept and abide by the Rules and Regulations of the IEA and of the Show, and that each rider, coach and Team: (1) is a member in good standing of the IEA, (2) is eligible as entered, and (3) will accept as final all rulings of IEA and the Show Steward (or committee) with respect to their conduct. Also, through participation each rider, rider's parents/legal guardians, coach, trainer, and participant acknowledges THAT HORSES ARE INTRINSICALLY DANGEROUS AND UNPREDICTABLE AND CAN CAUSE SERIOUS INJURY OR DEATH, thus each agrees to indemnify, defend and hold harmless IEA, its officers, directors, members, employees, Executive Director, National Steward, agents and representatives, the show stewards, stewards committee members, the show judges, the show secretaries, all show organizers and officials, all medical personnel, and all persons, stables, and others providing facilities, horses or equipment from the Show, other riders, coaches, teams and team sponsoring institutions, from any claim, action or suit, for injury, property damage or death sustained by the individual, rider, entity, coach trainer, or participant while traveling to, from and around the show, while staying in the city for the show, during participation in the show and while at the show. This entry constitutes an acceptance of the hired officials at this event.

HUNT SEAT FORMAT:

The general format will follow the Rules and Regulations as established by the IEA unless otherwise stated. However, if a topic is not covered by these Rules and Regulations, the rules and regulations of the Intercollegiate Horse Show Association ("IHSA") and then, if not resolved, the rules of the appropriate national governing body (NGB). Any decisions made by a steward or show management shall be final. All horses will be provided by the host team. Horses and Order of Go will be assigned by a random draw on the day of competition. Before jumping classes, each rider will be allowed only two warm-up fences, in the pattern posted by the show steward. Warm-up fences may only be changed by a steward or show official. All classes will be judged on equitation, and faults of the horse will not be judged. If a horse should perform so poorly that it is impossible to fairly judge the rider, the judge may request a re-ride. All requests for re-rides will be determined by the steward. All riders must wear ASTM approved protective headgear whenever mounted.

DRESSAGE FORMAT:

The general format will follow the Rules and Regulations as established by the IEA unless otherwise stated. However, if a topic is not covered by these Rules and Regulations, first the rules and regulations of the Intercollegiate Dressage Association ("IDA") and then, if not resolved the rules of the appropriate national governing body (NGB) may be used as a reference for guidance in making an equitable decision under the circumstances. Any decisions made by a steward or show management shall be final. All horses will be provided by the host. Horses and Order of Go will be assigned by a random draw on the day of competition. Before dressage test classes, each rider will be allowed only four laps around the ring with two changes of direction, and must follow the pattern posted by the show steward. All classes will be judged on equitation, and faults of the horse will not be judged. If a horse should perform so poorly that it is impossible to fairly judge the rider, the judge may request a re-ride. All requests for re-rides will be determined by the steward. All riders must wear ASTM approved protective headgear whenever mounted.

SCHOOLING:

Please note the designated schooling times for horses in the schedule. Schooling sessions will be supervised by a designated member (or members) of the show committee. From Tuesday, April 23rd through Sunday, April 28th, no rider that is showing in the IEA National Finals may ride any horse on the show grounds unless that rider has finished all possible phases of competition in any/all disciplines. Any rider that violates the schooling policy will be disqualified from all phases of competition at the 2024 IEA National Finals. All schooling riders must wear identifying wristbands that are available in the show office.

MEET OUR HUNT SEAT JUDGES

TONY SGARLATA
USEF “R” HUNT SEAT JUDGE

Tony Sgarlata, residing in Raleigh, North Carolina, is a well-known and respected USEF R judge, rider, trainer, coach and clinician. He is known industrywide as an effective trainer and a master at preparing horses and ponies for all levels of showing. Sgarlata has trained and coached numerous IHSA National Champions. His philosophy is to give back to the sport with the skills and expertise he has learned from working with talented trainers and riders.

Sgarlata has judged the hunter and equitation rings throughout North America including the International Hunter Futurity, World Champion Hunter Rider events and USHJA hunter derbies, at shows such as WEF, Devon, IHSA finals, Hampton Classic, Palm Beach, Tryon, Lake Placid and more.

CREIGH DUNCAN
USEF “R” HUNT SEAT JUDGE

Creigh Duncan rode as a Junior rider out of Tewksbury Farms under Carl Bessette, competing in the Pony Hunters, Junior Hunters, Junior Jumpers and Medal/Maclar equitation. She opened her own training business in 1984 specializing in the breaking/training/showing of young horses and ponies.

She successfully qualified riders and horses for Pony Finals, Devon and the major indoor horse shows. Creigh expanded her training business into Horse Show Management in 1997. She has managed Middlesex County, Hunterdon County, the Garden State Horse and Show and Monmouth County (which became Monmouth at the Team held at the United States Equestrian Team facility in Bedminster NJ).

Creigh has been a USEF Judge in Hunters, Equitation and Jumpers since 2006 and presently judges 40 weeks a year at major horse shows including Old Salem, Sacramento, WEC Ohio and Ocala, Kentucky and Thunderbird in Canada. She previously judged IEA Nationals in 2016.

TOP 4 REASONS TO RIDE WITH FVS

Welcoming

We are proud to offer Hunt Seat and Western riding programs to all genders and skill levels, grades nine through 12.

Facilities

Our 1,100-acre Prairie includes 12 miles of riding trails, a 150x275 indoor riding arena, four competition-sized outdoor arenas, a covered arena, and extensive accommodations for horses, including stall and run, shared paddocks with run-in sheds, and pasture.

Horsemanship

The FVS Riding Program includes a unique focus on horse management and care, as riders participate in feeding, grooming, tacking, and basic first aid, and even attend and assist at vet and farrier appointments.

Recognition

FVS, a two-time IEA Champion, has sent riders to Nationals on multiple occasions and most recently sent a team in 2019. Many of our riders have gone on to compete for college programs, including earning scholarships at the NCAA DI level.

THE STORY OF THE REAL MISTY OF CHINCOTEAGUE

An Excerpt from Dear Readers and Riders, the Biography of Author Marguerite Henry
Written by Lettie Teague, Creator and Sponsor of the IEA “Dear Marguerite Henry Essay Contest”

When Marguerite Henry met [the real] Maureen and Paul Beebe, they were riding the same pony bareback, she later recalled. She told the siblings that she had come to the island to write a book about the wild ponies and Chincoteague Island, and perhaps one pony in particular—the gold-and-white foal that she’d seen and worried might be auctioned off. “Suppose some parent with a clumsy clod of a child bought Misty in the auction tomorrow and had no idea of waiting until she grew strong enough to be ridden,” Marguerite frets in A Pictorial Life Story of Misty. As she noted in Pictorial, Maureen and Paul seemed singularly unimpressed with her idea, and her first impression of them wasn’t a particularly memorable one. Marguerite didn’t even think of including the children in her book until Grandpa Beebe broached the idea in conversation.

It was Clarence Beebe and his wife Ida who helped move Marguerite’s story along—they were, in fact, not only critical to the book’s narrative, but to its success, especially Grandpa Beebe’s idea that Paul and Maureen should feature as characters. Grandpa Beebe and Marguerite shook hands on a deal for the gold-and-white foal. “There was no bill of sale. No bargaining. Just $150 offered and accepted,” Marguerite wrote in Pictorial, and she even breezily told Grandpa Beebe that writing her book would be an easy task, especially writing Paul and Maureen into the story because, “They will be me when I was eleven!” (That was, of course, wishful thinking, since when Marguerite was eleven she had been sickly and housebound.)

proved to be a brilliant find, and as charming as he was knowledgeable about both ponies and life. His grandchildren were the characters Marguerite needed at the center of her book, and his words were what lit up the pages. Marguerite kept lists of Grandpa and Grandma Beebe’s words and phrases that she looked to insert at various places in the narrative: “Upon my soul!” “Good gracious me!” and “Facts are fine, fer as they go, but they’re like water bugs skitterin’ atop the water. Legends now, they go deep down and pull up the heart of the story.” Their words were not only authentic but wonderfully poetic as well.

Grandpa Beebe kept his word and a few months after Marguerite’s visit to the island he shipped the still quite-young Misty (she was around four months old) to Marguerite in Wayne by way of a railroad box car. It was an arrangement that they had both agreed would only be temporary. Misty would live with Marguerite for as long as Marguerite needed her to finish her book (making Misty the first and most famous, but not the last, “animal-muse” that Marguerite employed while writing over the years). It was perhaps an odd deal to make, but as Grandpa Beebe noted to Marguerite, he felt the money paid for Misty would be useful to help with his grandchildren’s education. And of course, it was part of the plan that Misty would eventually be returned to the Beebes, where she would be trained to be ridden and someday bred.

Although Marguerite wrote that she and Grandpa Beebe “shook hands over $150,” her publisher Rand McNally actually paid Grandpa Beebe for the “use” of Misty—a check for three hundred and fifty dollars, which was a handsome, though not outrageous, sum at the time, equal to around five thousand dollars today.

Several months later, when it was time for Misty to be shipped to Wayne, there was one obstacle: Marguerite didn’t have a barn on her property. But her neighbors the Quayles did, and they offered its use. The Quayle children and their friends even helped to clean up the two-stall structure, especially eager to lend a hand when they heard that a wild pony from Virginia was about to arrive—a pony described by Marguerite in glowing, even fanciful, terms.

But when the “wild pony” arrived looking ragged and sad on a cold rainy day in November 1946, Marguerite had some serious misgivings. Misty had traveled four days on the train before arriving in the nearby town of Geneva, and she looked very much worse for wear. Marguerite had driven to Geneva from Wayne to help with transferring Misty to the Railway Express truck that would take her to the Quayles’ barn, and she was truly shocked at the sight of the filly. When Misty stepped out of the rough crate that Grandpa Beebe had made and marked with a “C,” Marguerite thought the bedraggled, rough-coated, decidedly sorry-looking foal looked nothing like the gold-and-white pony she recalled seeing just a few months earlier on the island. She could find no trace of the “map of the United States” on Misty’s withers—a white marking that had captivated Marguerite—and the filly’s coat looked more gray than gold. Misty was also terribly small—about the same size as Pixie, the Henrys’ dog at the time. Sid remarked that Misty looked less like a pony and more like a “Siberian goat.”

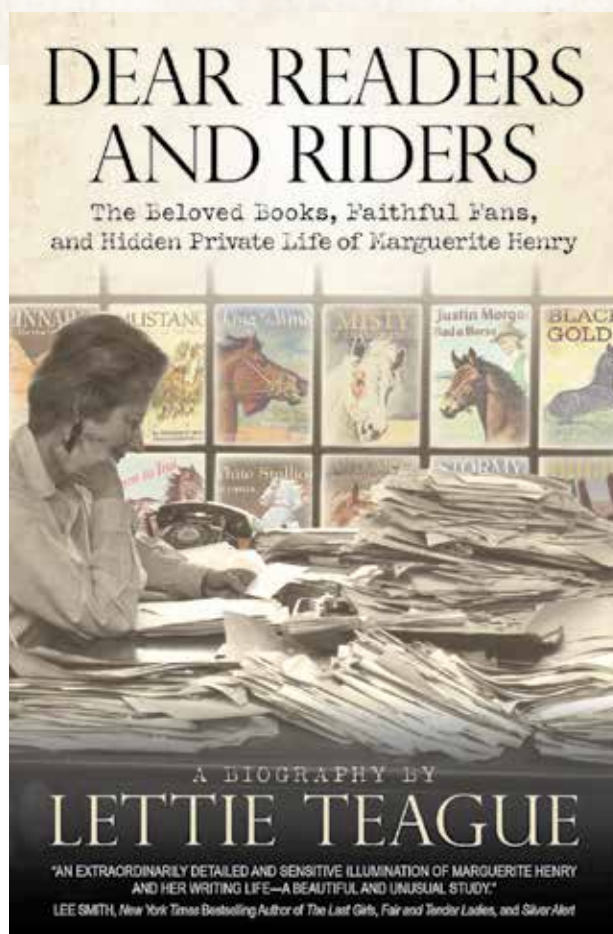

Marguerite felt sorry for the cold, lonely pony and a bit guilty as well. What had she done, taking the tiny foal so far from home and away from everything and everyone she’d known? And, of course, Marguerite was also wondering how she might turn such a woebegone creature into a good book.

The author ended up spending the night in the Quayles’ stable with Misty, keeping the pony company and hoping that somehow the story she’d had in mind might still work out.

The next day dawned on a more promising note—when Misty awoke in the strange little barn, she gave Marguerite a kick when Marguerite led her out of her stall.

Marguerite took this as a good omen.

While I expected to write about a horse in history like Secretariat or American Pharoah and how they changed the world, I've chosen to write about the not so famous horses that change the world. These horses will never be famous, never be shown or have any record. They are the horses that change the world for just one rider. One unknown horse who has made an impact on my life is named Parker.

Parker was my first ever horse. I saved for three years to buy him. He's a 16.3 bay Appendix gelding and he has the funniest attitude. He's never been shown nor does he have any show record but he changed my life and the people he's met. He loves humans even more than I love him, which I never thought was possible. He makes me laugh every time I see him and likes to snore when he sleeps. He's the sweetest baby horse that you could imagine and we've faced a tough year in our first year as partners. When we got Parker, he had on horse shoes but he refused to keep them on. He hated shoes so much that he was injured because he didn't want to keep them on. He was forced on stall rest to recover. During his time on stall rest, he became angry and frustrated. I was frustrated too but I promised him I would never give up on him. We spent five months bonding. He had a ball that we put carrots in and he learned to play soccer.

When Parker was cleared to go outside, he returned to his goofy self. He was the horse I fell in love with. It has been a few months and we just got cleared to start slowly bringing him back, this time the way he wants it with no shoes. I am so happy that I can ride my best friend again.

To the world, Parker will likely never be famous. I don't know if we'll even show. Our show record is blank and it may stay that way. No matter what happens, I can not wait for our future. Even if we'll never be famous for it. Parker has taught me that love is more important than fame.

"My horses understand me tolerably well, I converse with them at least four hours every day."

-Jonathan Swift, Gulliver's Travels

The greatest attributes a horseman can have are attentiveness to the best interests of the animal, keen senses, and a dedication to time spent with the horse. These three components, when brought together, promote an environment of safety, care, and general health of horse and rider alike. Far too frequently, riders rely on the horse to take care of himself and do not respect that he is a brave, devoted animal who seeks to please the rider, and wants care in return. Responsible horse care is not a passive activity; it requires a whole-hearted dedication to the equine as not only as a means to an end, but as a companion and creature in need of good communication and love just the same as any human is.

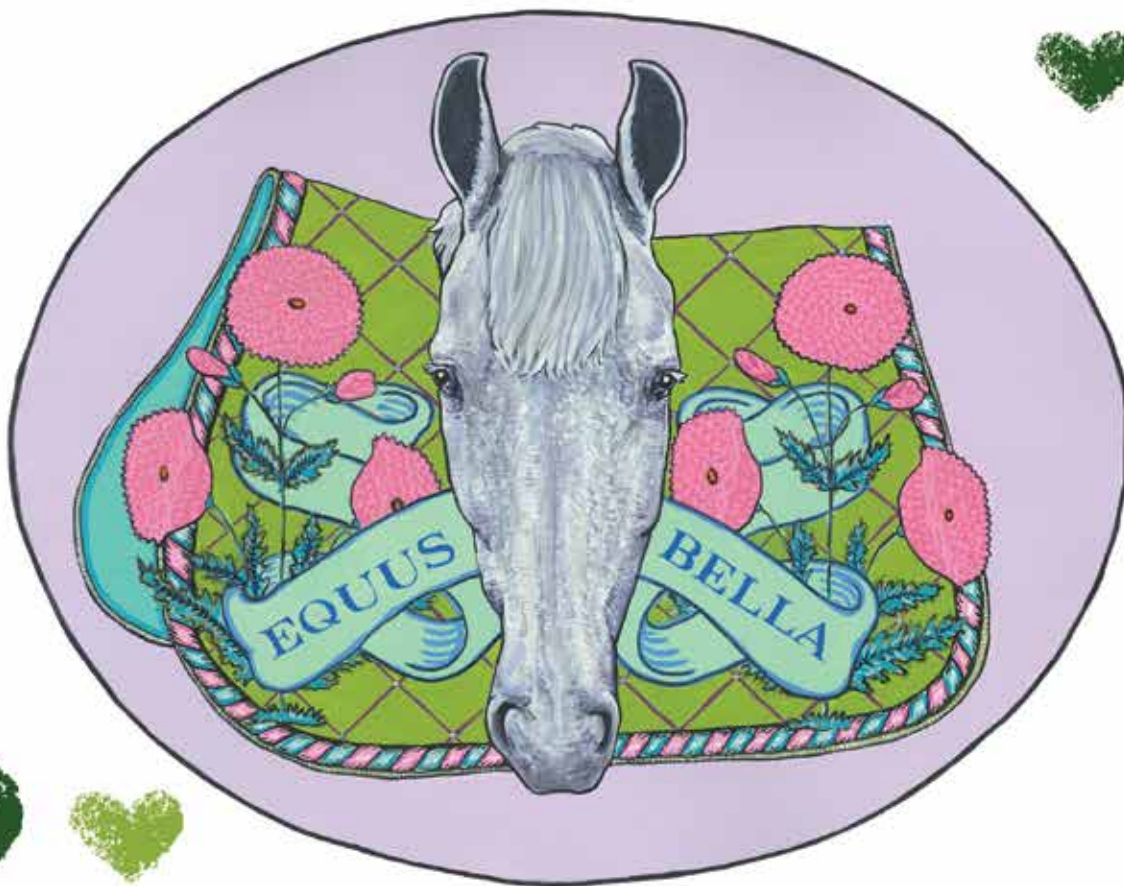

When I worked as a summer camp counselor at my barn, and now when I help with the younger kids while they are still learning proper horsemanship, I emphasize the necessity of being aware of the horse's body language and respecting his boundaries. Many of our lesson horses are older in age and, while they are not aggressive, appreciate their space and do not like being bombarded with affection as many kids like to do. Part of equine wellness is their happiness and comfortability in their environment. Being attentive to the best needs of the animal involves knowing that they are not like dogs or cats, and have their own special needs that differ from other animals, and even change from horse to horse. Practicing knowing equine body language and being able to read when the horse establishes a boundary will make the horse happier and more comfortable in their environment, which should be the ultimate goal of any horseman seeking to improve their horse's quality of life. Additionally, taking these needs into consideration promotes the welfare of the horse and rider as a team, not only the horse. According to the National Library of Medicine, Only an approximated 54-79% of human injuries involving a horse occur from a fall or otherwise from the back of the horse, meaning that a shocking 21-46% of injuries happen while on the ground. However, according to Applied Animal Behaviour Science, Volume 109, Issue 1, "Developing awareness and attention to behavioural cues given by horses would certainly help decreasing accidents."

Another piece of ethical treatment of equines is the ability to recognize when they are in need of help, especially when they show signs of pain or need medical attention. My horse, who has now unfortunately passed due to uncontrollable circumstances, appeared to have no capacity to be stoic in the face of discomfort. Because he was so well cared for and knew that I and other humans were always willing to help him, he knew exactly what to do in the face of pain, and would come find a human or wait for help, completely relaxed. One notable instance of this was when, while at a horse show, his shoe got caught in a string haynet. Had there not been attentive horsemen nearby, he could have been stuck like that for hours; However, because my friend heard him struggle, she was able to cut him out after likely no more than a few minutes of him being caught in the first place. The practice of keen senses and a quick mind are essential to the nature of ethical horse treatment because of instances like these. Responsible horse care requires these attributes to keep equines safe.

If I could change one thing about the equestrian world at the moment, it would be the lack of dedication to time spent at the barn while dismounted. According to the article "Exploring the existence and potential underpinnings of dog-human and horse-human attachment bonds", how bonds between horses and humans are formed is radically understudied considering the lack of data points on dismounted relationships, yet there is a clear connection between performance and health of the animal and what the author refers to as "secure attachment", or a healthy relationship that promotes communication and expectations being met by both parties without creating "anxious attachment", or a relationship that relies on distrust and the assumption that expectations will not be met. Secure attachment can be formed between horse and human through emotional closeness gained by spending time together. I. H. Robinson of BEVA takes an economical stance on this claim, measuring how the "cost" of investing time and care into the horse improves his quality of life and performance. Horses are intrinsically social animals that form herds for their safety, and thus are hard-wired to find contentment in being around animals, or in this case people, who they feel they can trust. By establishing a secure attachment with the horse by demonstrating that you are reliable and will care for him, he will be happier and perform better. The only way to accomplish this is by spending time with the animal, working on communication and meeting his needs or wants when he asks that they be met. One very simple instance of this was when my old horse was on stall rest for an abscess, and felt comfortable enough around me after years of creating a secure attachment to put himself in a vulnerable enough position to roll when I took him on a walk in the arena, performing what Applied Animal Behaviour Science, Volume 105, Issues 1-3 refers to as a "comfort behaviour".

I believe that achieving these goals is a very reasonable demand. There is no call for extra funding or tearing down of preexisting structures or practices; in fact, the only thing I propose is that horsemen put more care into their partners. As I have shown, attentiveness to the best interests of the animal, keen senses, and a dedication to time spent with the horse are undemanding goals that would drastically improve the lives of equines.

PROUD SPONSOR OF THE 2024 IHSA VARSITY OPEN CHAMPIONSHIP CLASS

HISTORY of the Varsity Open Championship (VOC) Class

The Varsity Open Championship class was first offered at the "Interscholastic Invitational" events that prefaced the founding of the IEA. The class was based on the concept of an ASPCA Maclay equitation class and the IHSA's Cacchione Cup. Riders qualified into the class by making the overall top 10 in the Open Division on the day of the show. They were judged 50% on their over fences portion and 50% on the flat phase. The class continued into the offerings of the first IEA National Finals in 2003 where two Madeira School riders, Elizabeth Smith and Diana Glenney, placed first and second respectively. Their coach was Sue Wentzel (IEA's current National Steward), and she recalls an exciting ride-off where they switched horses in a final test to determine the winner. In the current version of this class, the top Open rider from each Zone is invited to compete in the VOC, along with the top two riders from the Varsity Open Individual division.

The 2024 IHSA Varsity Open Championship Winner will take home the following*:

- $1,100 IEA Founders Scholarship Award
- $5,000 Scholarship to Emory & Henry College (for a freshman, sophomore, junior or senior)
- $2,000 Scholarship to St. Andrew's University (for a junior or senior)
- $2,000 Scholarship to University of Findlay (for a junior)
- $2,000 Scholarship to Delaware Valley University (for a junior)
- $1,250 Scholarship to Averett University (for a junior)
- $1,000 Scholarship to Otterbein University (for a junior or senior)
- $1,000 Scholarship to Albion College (for a junior)
- IHSA Trophy
- Engraved Silver Tray
- $250 R.J. Classics Gift Certificate
- $200 Alexander Academic Access Gift Certificate
- Delaire Backpack Sponsored by Veltri Sport
- $115 LM Boot Gift Certificate
- Embroidered Commemorative Garment Bag Sponsored by Schneiders Saddlery
- Engraved Picture Frame
- Champion Ribbon Ornament Sponsored by CM Show Ribbon Ornaments
- Complimentary placement in a USHJA Emerging Athletes Program (EAP) Regional Training Session

* Prizes at time of printing.

Awards will take place immediately following each class. All riders are expected to return to the arena in full show attire for awards.

JOIN THE IEA YOUTH BOARD!

WHAT IS THE IEA NATIONAL YOUTH BOARD?

The IEA Youth Board was created to provide an avenue for adult leaders to hear the youth voice and to offer leadership opportunities to rider members. Our Youth Board members are leaders in their local IEA Community and at a National IEA level. IEA Youth Board members work with adult advisers to disseminate information from IEA Marketing, host local community service events, help with a variety of activities at IEA National Finals for each discipline and serve as official representatives. In the past, opportunities have included presenting awards at IEA National Finals and the Ohio Quarter Horse Congress, organizing fundraisers at their local IEA shows, and running informative IEA booths at non-IEA horse shows and equine events. IEA Youth Board Members also have the opportunity to host social media challenges, run their Zone or Discipline social media pages, participate in take-overs on the IEA's main social media pages and host virtual activities in their Zones and Regions.

HOW DO I GET INVOLVED?

Elections are held at the beginning of each IEA season. Youth Board members are elected by their peers and serve a one-year term. Each Hunt Seat Zone is allocated one Youth Board representative. Each Dressage Zone is allocated one Youth Board representative. Western allotments increase as the discipline grows. In order to apply, riders are required to have ridden in IEA for at least two years, submit two letters of recommendation and answer a series of essay questions on leadership. Each applicant runs a "campaign" in their Zone. Afterwards, each rider in the Zone receives an email to vote for their preferred Representative. Only one vote per rider is permitted.

WANT TO BE A LEADER BUT NOT READY FOR YOUTH BOARD? CHECK OUT OUR NEW TEAM CAPTAINS CAMPAIGN!

The Team Captains Campaign (TCC) aims to create more leadership opportunities for IEA riders at the local level and provide coaches with a rider who is in-the-know about all things IEA. The TCC works with local Youth Board members to implement campaigns and discuss future ideas. The overall goal of the TCC is to create a bridge between IEA Youth Board members and their entire Zone/Region to host fun activities and learn about ways to improve the IEA experience for our riders.

NATIONAL HIPPOLOGY ACADEMY
INTERSCHOLASTIC EQUESTRIAN ASSOCIATION

Did you know IEA had a National Hippology Academy? This re-branding of the Horsemanship Program offers both IEA Rider members and non-rider members of all ages more equine educational opportunities.

The National Hippology Academy aims to provide:

- Educational materials on Hippology
- Seasonal educational series'
- Social media competitions and engagements
- Exclusive guest speakers
- The National Hippology Academy Quiz series

The National Hippology Academy Quiz Series, formally known as the Online Horsemanship Quizzes, is now divided into different age-based difficulty levels. At the end of the season, a Final Quiz will be posted. Participants who score 75% or higher will receive a free t-shirt. The top scoring participant in each category will win a prize.

For more information, contact Jennifer Eaton at jenn@RideIEA.org or call (877) RIDE-IEA ext. 203. Follow us on Facebook and Instagram to become part of the National Hippology Academy online community. @RideIEA @NHAbbyIEA

The NHA is for anyone in grades 4-12 and adults.
Quizzes are available now through May 2024.
FREE for Jr. Contributing Members and $25 for Rider Members.

IEA TO CONTINUE LEGACY AND MISSION OF JUNIOR ESSEX TROOP OF CAVALRY

Originally Published March 31, 2023, Updated March 29, 2024

The Interscholastic Equestrian Association is pleased to again highlight their partnership with The Junior Essex Troop of Cavalry (JET) to continue the Troop's legacy of fostering the love of horses among youth through education in the art of horsemanship and equine athletics. The partnership provides a Perpetual Trophy for both the Middle and Upper School Hunt Seat Championship Teams at annual IEA Hunt Seat National Finals.

The trophies are named in their honor; "The Junior Essex Troop of Cavalry Trophy" known as the "JET Trophy". They were presented for the first time at the 2023 IEA Hunt Seat Finals held at the Tryon International Equestrian Center in Mill Spring, NC on April 27-30. Junior Essex Troop of Cavalry has pledged $80,000 that includes the Perpetual Trophies, along with funding support for the IEA through a generous financial gift that will be used to support additional prizes for the National Finals Championship Teams, as well as the IEA Benevolent Fund, educational offerings, and IEA general programming for riders in Grades 4-12 to further our joint mission.

IEA currently has a membership of 14,950 nationwide and offers draw-based competitive programs for riders in grades 4-12, with the goal of promoting lifelong involvement, understanding and appreciation for equestrian sport.

"The Junior Essex Troop Show in West Orange, New Jersey, was the largest all junior show in the United States for a number of years", says Rodney Seelig, President. "Team competition was a primary and prestigious aspect of the show featuring the Junior Military Divisions and later the Junior Teams Divisions, in a format similar to the way IEA conducts their National Finals."

Teams of three would compete at one of the three different levels of skill. During the remainder of the year many of these organizations would participate in "Invitation Meets" where these teams would travel to one of the barns that participated and compete on that barn's horses, similar to the IEA's current draw-based format. Alumni and friends continued to run the show after the daily operations of JET ceased. A 35-year labor of love by this group of dedicated individuals carried on JET's traditions and made possible the sponsorship we are proudly providing IEA.

"IEA is quite like the Troop in its mission," said Tim Cleary, an officer of The Junior Essex Troop who became its Horsemanship Instructor and is an Associate Professor of equine studies at Centenary University. "The Junior Essex Troop, and riding organizations like it, were the foundations of the Intercollegiate Horse Shows Association (IHSA) and the IEA. We, as kids, experienced the format they are doing now."

"It meant so much to all of us," agreed another JET board member, John Walker, who is pleased that distribution of the organization's funds was well thought-out. John noted that the first horse show ribbon ever won by his son, Jack, now 27, was at an IEA show. He was inspired to go on with his riding and is training today to be a veterinary technician.

"I am so happy to have the Junior Essex Troop name live on in an organization that is so much like it," Cleary commented. "The objective is/was to introduce those drawn to horses in a way that is affordable."

Through the IEA Benevolent Fund, Roxane Durant, IEA's Executive Director and one of its Founders, notes kids who might not otherwise be able to ride will get the boost they need from IEA. "Those are the kind of kids that will step into this industry because they fought hard to be in it. That's hugely significant and JET's funding will be instrumental in continuing accessible programming for young riders."

The IEA's unique program of draw-based (catch-ride) competition means that no rider is required to own a horse or tack, making it a more affordable way for riders to participate. "The funding support from Junior Essex Troop will allow the IEA to increase the impact of our grass roots access to equestrian sport", says Kathy Dando, IEA Resource Development Director. "The IEA provides a safe environment for young athletes to develop unparalleled horsemanship skills, along with added life skills such as confidence, empathy, and resiliency that will support them for a lifetime." ■■■

ABOUT THE JUNIOR ESSEX TROOP OF CAVALRY

The Junior Essex Troop of Cavalry (JET) was founded in 1931 as a cadet auxiliary with the support and aid of the famous Essex Troop of the 102nd Cavalry, New Jersey National Guard. It was the only junior cavalry squadron sanctioned by the United States Government. In 1943, the Junior Essex Troop was incorporated as a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization with the mission to "foster the love of horses among boys" through military training and education in the art of horsemanship. The Troop became co-ed in 1983, developing and educating young men and women through equine activities. The Troop ceased daily operations in 1989.

Interested in learning more about how you or your organization could help support the IEA? Contact Kathy Dando at kdando@rideiea.org.

ELLA KATE PAYNE

Congratulations Ella Kate!

YOU MADE IT TO NATIONALS!!

We are all so very proud of you. You have been such a leader in and out of the saddle. You have allowed your failures to become teachers and victories to become reassurances of your hard work. Success doesn't come from what you do easily, but what you do consistently. And what you do consistently is give your all to everything that you do.

Have fun today.

Enjoy the ride and soak up every moment.

Two minds, two hearts, one dream.

Don't forget the mints!

Mommy, Daddy, your IEA Team and your Rosewood Farm Coaches

MEET OUR DRESSAGE JUDGES

MARGARET FREEMAN
USEF "S" DRESSAGE JUDGE

Margaret Freeman is a USEF Senior dressage judge living in Tryon, NC, and has been judging dressage shows for 36 years. She is a free-lance editor and has covered the equestrian events at seven Olympics for the Associated Press. She is an experienced show organizer and was on the founding committees of CDCTA (VA) and Dressage at Devon (PA). She has been active with Lendon Gray's Dressage4Kids for 25 years.

SARAH GEIKIE
USEF "S" DRESSAGE JUDGE
FEI "C" DRESSAGE JUDGE

Sarah has been a lifelong equestrian. Her original riding background was spent in Pony Club, riding hunters, and then moving on to being an active competitor in Combined Training before turning her focus on dressage. Over the years, Sarah has trained many horses and riders up to FEI. She has had success through the Grand Prix level, on a horse that she trained herself. Her students have earned their USDF medals and often place in USDF and NEDA year-end awards.

Sarah remains an active rider and trainer and continues to compete. In addition to riding, teaching and training, Sarah is an FEI 4 Star dressage judge. She currently judges all over the world as well as in the US.

Sarah believes it is very important to give back to the sport and serving on committees is a way to do that. She is currently the Co-Chair of the USDF Instructor/Trainer Committee. She has been very active in this program for the past 25 years, and is passionate about dressage education. She believes that education is so important for every rider, both amateur and professional. It is the bridge to the future.

AN EXCEPTIONAL INDEPENDENT BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL FOR GIRLS GRADES 8-12

Unlocking Potential: Discover Oldfields School

Established 1867
OLDFIELDS
S C H O O L

Oldfields School uses a collaborative, individually tailored curriculum to foster both academic and personal growth in all of its students. The curriculum combines the traditional areas of liberal arts studies with innovative signature programs that provide relevant learning to explore a passion and expand knowledge.

An integral part of the Oldfields experience since 1867, the Oldfields Riding Program is dedicated to inspiring our riders to pursue a path of continued growth. Our goals are to develop and enhance a yearning for knowledge, to value the character of the horse and the integrity of the sport, to honor the path of the individual, and to savor the process of learning and the lessons discovered from our relationships with horses.

“Oldfields Riding Program is unlike any other. Students can focus on a specific discipline while exploring other aspects of the equestrian world. The team of riding instructors is unmatched and focused on each girl’s growth. Our daughter finds tremendous joy in this exceptional program.”

– Gwen, parent

WHY OLDFIELDS?

- Daily opportunities to ride
- Open to beginner through advanced level riders
- Learn from certified trainers and expert guest clinicians
- Go to horse shows and compete in hunters, jumpers, dressage and eventing
- Participate in foxhunting with 2 local hunt clubs
- Compete on our Interscholastic Equestrian (IEA) Teams

EQUESTRIAN FACILITIES

- Welcoming courtyard-style barn and incredible school horses
- State-of-the-art indoor arena and two outdoor rings with premium footing
- Modified cross-country course and miles of trails

EQUINE SCIENCE CONCENTRATION

This Signature Program is for students who are passionate about horse care and horsemanship, interested in studying equine or veterinary science in college, and/or want to work in the horse industry. It combines traditional academic classes with hands-on education in the barn and individualized experiential learning opportunities.

ASSOCIATION

IT'S YOUR FUTURE. TAKE THE REINS.

Support Young Riders' Dreams

Inclusive. Equitable. Affordable.

Every Donation Makes a Difference

Every contribution, big or small, can make a significant difference to the lives of young equestrian athletes and the future of our sport. Here are just a few of the ways your gift will support equitable and affordable access for young equestrian athletes, no matter their circumstances.

General Purpose

Supports all IEA general programming providing flexible and immediate impact where and when it's needed most.

IEA Benevolent Fund

The IEA Benevolent Fund was established to provide a Financial Assistance Program for young riders in grades 4–12 who need funding assistance to enable them to take lessons and compete in the IEA. Financial Aid provides support for membership fees, monthly riding lessons, 5 shows of entry fees, plus potential travel money and entries for post-season Finals. The Benevolent Fund also provides emergency funding for our coaches who are battling an unexpected event that impedes their ability to work such as illness, accidents, barn fires, natural disasters, and other tragedies that translate into a loss of personal business income through the Coaches Assistance Grant.

Scholarships

By supporting IEA Scholarships, you're empowering talented young equestrian athletes with opportunities, like attending specialized horse training programs or pursuing degrees related to their equestrian passion. You're not just investing in their education, you're building a future generation of knowledgeable and skilled equestrians.

Youth Board

The IEA Youth Board was created to provide an avenue for which to hear the youth voice and offer leadership opportunities to our young rider members. The National Youth board consists of elected representatives from all IEA Zones and disciplines. Members serve one-year terms running from July to June.

Thank You for Your Support!

IEA is a national 501(c)3 organization and GuideStar Gold Seal Charity. Donations are tax-deductible.

Interested in learning more about how you or your organization could help support the IEA? Contact Kathy Dando at kdando@rideiea.org or visit us at www.RideIEA.org/donate.

What We Do

We screen print and sell t-shirts, sweatshirts, and other garments, all done on-site at your event, wherever it may be. We bring all necessary production materials with us to every event so we are always prepared to meet your needs. There is absolutely no cost to you, other than providing us with an electrical outlet to use. In fact WE PAY YOU!

A percentage of our gross sales is paid to you as a vending fee. Because we stock the inventory and our items are printed to order, there is no need for your funding whatsoever. In making your event t-shirts, we create excitement for all your participants and spectators alike. And, WE PROMOTE YOU!

Benefits

- No money handling; therefore no lost revenues or trust issues.
- You receive a percentage of the gross sales.
- Event tee's is our business, so you can be assured we go all out to make our sales a success including high-impact, professional graphic design.
- Every time our shirts are worn, they are promoting your event.
- Garments are printed on-site, as they are sold, this means no leftovers and no losses to profit.
- No sales are lost do to lack of supplies; we always carry an abundant supply of blank t-shirts sizes Youth M to Adult XXL so you won't run out of more popular sizes.
- We guarantee the quality of our product
- No involvement on your part means you can concentrate on running your event
- We maintain consistent pricing throughout each event, no one will feel cheated by end-of-day discounts
- NO COST AND NO FINANCIAL OBLIGATION!

Contact us today to see how we can help your event.

EQUUS

F O U N D A T I O N

FOR THE LOVE OF HORSES

Throughout history, human civilization has advanced on the backs of horses - literally!

Horses have been our loyal partners in work, transportation, sport, war, and as companions and healers — and yet, thousands of horses are abandoned and discarded each year to face an uncertain, and often horrific future.

HELP KEEP AMERICA'S HORSES SAFE!

Pony Club

The United States Pony Clubs, Inc. (USPC) IEA Hunt Seat and Dressage National Finals Horsemanship Written Test was created to promote good horsemanship among IEA members. The test supports the IEA's mission to educate youth members in all areas of equestrian studies and focuses on the belief that good horsemanship should always come first. This year's test incorporates the following sources:

1. "The United States Pony Clubs Manual of Horsemanship: Basics for Beginners - D Level"
2. "The United States Pony Clubs Manual of Horsemanship: Intermediate Horsemanship C1-C12 Levels"
3. "D Level Flash/Study Cards" (All USPC source materials are available from <https://shopponyclub.org/collections/print-materials>)
4. USHJA Horsemanship Quiz Study Guide. <https://www.rideiea.org/opportunities/nationalhippologyacademy/>
5. IEA Rules and Regulations - available on the IEA website at <https://www.rideiea.org/rules/>

HOW TO PARTICIPATE

- The USPC IEA National Finals Horsemanship Virtual Written Test will be available to ALL 2023-24 HUNT SEAT and DRESSAGE IEA RIDERS.
- There is no fee to participate.
- Participants can access the test on the IEA 2024 National Finals page at <https://www.rideiea.org/2024nationalfinals/>
- The test will open at 8:00am on WEDNESDAY, APRIL 24, 2024 and closes at 3:00pm EST on SATURDAY, APRIL 27, 2024.

RIBBONS AND AWARDS

- First through eighth place ribbons will be awarded for the top eight finishers in Middle School and the top eight finishers in Upper School.
- First place in both Middle and Upper School will receive a trophy in addition to their ribbon.
- Awards will be announced Sunday, April 28, 2024 during the horse show. Participants do not need to be present for the announcement. Ribbons and trophies will be mailed to winners. In the event that participants are present on Sunday, April 28, they can pick up their ribbons and trophies at the Awards Room.
- Winners will be posted online at <https://www.rideiea.org/2024nationalfinals/>

IEA SPORTSMANSHIP STATEMENT and OATH

(To be read by the announcer at the beginning of every IEA Horse Show.)

SPORTSMANSHIP

The IEA was established to provide competitive and educational opportunities through equestrian athletics. Good horsemanship and honorable participation are priorities at every event. It is the responsibility of all attendees to foster a spirit of belongingness, an atmosphere of community enjoyment, and a mutual respect for all participants and their equine partners.

(All participants must commit to the following Oath.)

OATH

In representation of the participants at this event, I promise to respect and abide by the governing rules of the Interscholastic Equestrian Association and to represent myself, my team, and this association in the spirit of good horsemanship and honorable competition.
